SUPPORT THE MISSION OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION AT BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY
The mission of Religious Education at Brigham Young University is to assist individuals in their efforts to come unto Christ by teaching the scriptures, doctrine, and history of the restored gospel of Jesus Christ through classroom instruction, gospel scholarship, and outreach to the larger community.

The Savior warned against hiding our light under a basket. He recommended that our candle should be placed on a candlestick so that all could benefit from the light.

Religious Education desires to take full advantage of the unique opportunity it has to contribute to the University and larger Church community. With your support, the light of Religious Education can shine forth so that more may benefit from this valuable Church resource.

Matthew’s account encourages us to place our light on a candlestick. It is hoped that you will desire to support and expand the work of Religious Education. It is donor support that will provide the candlestick described in the parable. With your support the mission of Religious Education can be realized.

RESEARCH AND TEACHING

FUNDING PRIORITY
Support for development efforts that enhance the quality of classroom teaching.

The first priority of Religious Education is effective classroom instruction. Through the work of the donor-sponsored Teaching Fellowship, faculty have the opportunity to participate in development opportunities such as participation in conferences, seminars, workshops and other in-service activities that enhance teaching effectiveness.

RELIGIOUS STUDIES CENTER

FUNDING PRIORITY
Support for gospel scholarship and publications.

Donor support makes it possible for the Religious Studies Center to support quality scholarly activities with a gospel emphasis. Such research finds expression in several venues including the publications of the Religious Studies Center: The Religious Educator, a peer-reviewed journal, and The Review, a variety of books and monographs.

OUTREACH SERVICES

FUNDING PRIORITY
Support for high quality web-based and BYU Broadcast resources.

As a service to the ever-expanding Church, Religious Education initiated a web-based resource. Multi-language materials, publications and readings are a few of the resources now available. Continued donor support provides an opportunity for this service to expand.

The success of the Discussions on the Scriptures and the various symposia have demonstrated the ability of Religious Education to contribute to the needs of KBYU Broadcasting. Such efforts are sustained with donor support.

WITH YOUR SUPPORT

With your support the mission of Religious Education can be realized.

EXPAND THE WORK
